About OBA

- The Office for Business Architecture (OBA) was established by a team of Supply Chain experts to catalyse clients with innovative thinking and foster company to company solutions to business problems.
- OBA brings companies together from different industries (1 to 1) to develop innovative ideas and solve challenging business issues.
- Our clients gain direct experience from each other, the success stories and the challenges!
- OBA has the ability to offer clients a unique model of consulting. Combining both proven strategy consultants from the world's top management consultancy firms, and a broad network of technical and industry experts from leading multinational companies.
- Our projects stay grounded in reality, generating actionable and practical advice.

"A new kind of consulting is breaking down barriers"

Testimonials

“OBA’s ability to bring a wealth of relevant experience directly from a number of different companies has helped us develop an external perspective on our supply chain. OBA has a completely unique approach, a high degree of expertise and professionalism and has added great value to our business. We have no hesitation in further recommending OBA”.

Global SOP Director, Unilever

“Bill brought his rich experience and conceptual skills to our team in developing some of the strategic options for business operating models. His ability to connect different organisations to benefit from shared learning's has been of timely help for our program. I see this particular business model to be of great value for organisations to learn from each other.”

Global Deployment Manager, Shell

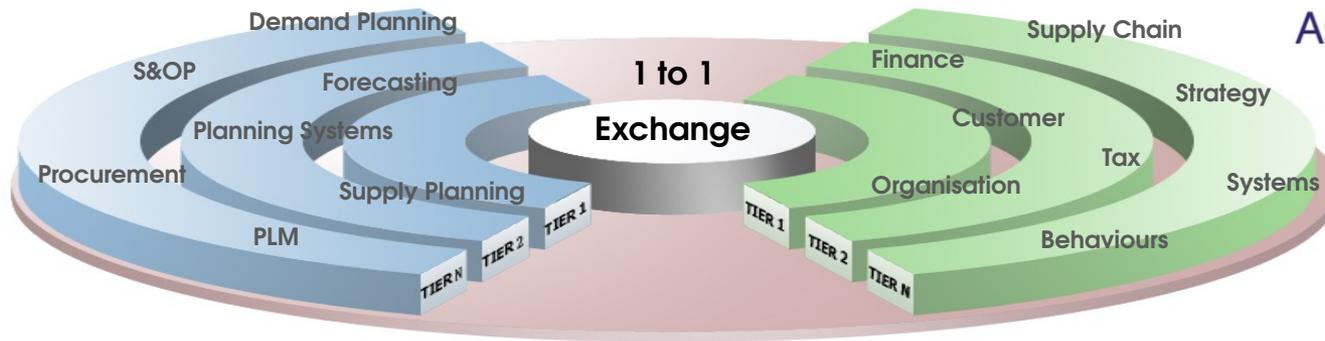

“OBA has a wealth of knowledge in developing and integrating financial, IS and supply chain solutions to deliver real business value. OBAs wide network of contacts will ensure that best in class practices can be shared and fully utilized.”

Head Of Supply Chain Management, Syngenta
